

Phillip Cook

Advisor Team

Philip Cook has been an environmental activist in the Lost Pines area of central Texas for over 30 years. He helped organize the Cedar Creek Landowners Association in 1985 and the Bastrop County Environmental Network in 1990.

More recently, he has worked within the Lone Star Sierra Club as a regional activist focusing on protecting and preserving groundwater and surface water in the Lost Pines area, closely allied with Environmental Stewardship, Neighbors for Neighbors, and other conservation and environmental organizations.

He received a BA in Philosophy from the University of Texas-Austin in 1970. He is a retired teacher of English and Reading. He has lived in Bastrop County for over 40 years.